Description

Very good condition punched copy. Counters are bagged/sorted.

Campaign to Stalingrad is a game simulating the Russo-German War in southern Russia from June to December 1942. Three scenarios are included: the German summer offensive (Fall Blau), the Soviet winter offensive (Uranus), and a campaign game that covers the entire period.

Campaign to Stalingrad is a game of moderate complexity. Each turn represents 3 days, each hex equals 16 kilometers. Most units are divisions, however Soviet Tank, Cavalry, and Mechanized Corps, along with independent brigades and regiments are also included.
