

Corbach 1760

Corbach 1760 use the same system than Hastenbeck 1757 published in VaeVictis 126 with a slightly different scale.

Rating: Not Rated Yet

Price

Price £12.95

Ask a question about this product

Manufacturer HISTOIRE & COLLECTIONS

Description

Shipped unsealed by the publisher. Appear slightly shelf-worn from the journey. Remain unpunched, never played.

Boardgames

- Fort Sumter - GMT
- Roads to Gettysburg II - MMP
- Longstreet Attack - Revolution Games
- The Great Game - Legion Wargames
- Bloody Monday - Vento Nuovo Games
- Armageddon War - FPG
- NR3 - GMT
- Helsinki 1918 - Up Games
- War of the Worlds- France DVG

- 1754 - Asyncon

Scenarios

- ASL
- M44

Miniatures

- Team Yankee - After Action report
- Révoltes huguenotes (1620-1629) 2nd part
- Saga Croisades - After Action report
- Scénarios Sécession 1862
- Présentation Western (Peter Pig)
- Blood Eagles : scenario

Technic

- Les décors désert 2nd part

Hobby

- French Consim

Art of War

- 1759-1760 - Seven Years War, French campaign in the Western Germany

Wargame

- Corbach 1760

July 1760, Broglie – at the offensive in Germany – was with the main french forces in Frankenberg in Hesse, 30 km south of Corbach. He ordered Saint Germain to join him with the Army of the Rhine. Ferdinand, duke of Brunswick, stationed 10 km east of Corbach, send the Erbprinz of Brunswick to prevent the junction of the two french armies. The Prinz having made contact with Kielmansegg Corps decide to attack what he though was only the vanguard of St Germain. However Broglie himself with six brigades arrived on the battlefield while some german reinforcement force-marched to join the fight.

Corbach 1760 use the same system than Hastenbeck 1757 published in VaeVictis 126 with a slightly different scale.

Scale :

- One combat point = 150 to 250 men
- One hex = 200-250 m
- One turn = 30 mn