

North Wind Rain - The Japanese Invasion of Manchuria 1941/42

Japanese invasion of Manchuria

Rating: Not Rated Yet

Price

Price £25.95

Ask a question about this product

Manufacturer AGAINST THE ODDS MAGAZINE

Description

Excellent Un Punched Copy

North Wind Rain, the Japanese invasion of Manchuria, is an operational/strategic level game covering one of the great "what ifs" of the Second World War – a Japanese attack against the Soviet Far East. This attack, pitting the elite Japanese Kwantung Army against the full-strength divisions of the Soviet Far East Armies was not simply a hypothetical scenario, but one that the Japanese prepared for and seriously contemplated.

Two variants are offered: a 1941 attack roughly concurrent with the German assault against European Russia in which the Kwantung Army faces some of the best units of the Soviet Far East Army and a 1942 scenario in which the Kwantung Army, reinforced by a large mechanized force, squares off against a still large, but not as strong, Soviet Far East Army garrison.

North Wind Rain and issue #5 of ATO

Maps - One full color 22"x34" mapsheet

Counters - 280 full color 1/2" die-cut pieces

Rules length - 11 pages

Charts and tables - 2 pages

Complexity - Medium
Solitaire suitability - Good
Playing time - Up to 10 hours

Design - Mark E. Stille
Development - Mark J. Perry, C. Rawling
Graphic Design - Craig Grando