

USN: War in the Pacific 1941 and 1943 (Game Only)

Good Condition Punched Copy (includes front cover)

USN deals with the air, land and sea warfare in the Pacific between 1941 and 1943. Each hex represents over 200 miles.

Rating: Not Rated Yet

Price

Price £44.95

Ask a question about this product

Manufacturer STRATEGY & TACTICS

Description Good Condition Punched Copy (includes front cover)

USN deals with the air, land and sea warfare in the Pacific between 1941 and 1943. Each hex represents over 200 miles. Each turn represents a week's operations. Land unit counters represent divisions or regiments. Air units represent multiples of 10 planes. Virtually the entire Pacific is shown, from east of Hawaii to west of Java. Across this wide expanse, naval units (individual aircraft carriers, groups of everything else) fight in one of the most complex campaigns in history. The air, land and naval forces all operated under different conditions. There are five different Combat Results tables used to accommodate everything from torpedo attacks to bayonet charges. The CRT's represent abstract battle actions. There are three "campaign" games plus three shorter "mini" scenarios.